

Hey now,

I'm happy you took the time to download these tracks, thank you.

I hope they add some art and color to your life, and I hope you enjoy.

The first two tracks are shortened, call them "radio edits" lol, even though they're not really built for radio. I just wanted to reserve the long drawn out versions with artistic intros and epic outros for the full album, and use this opportunity to get straight to the point, EP style. I mean, we did just meet. if after listening to these tracks you are in fact interested in purchasing the the full album, who am I to deny - you can do so at:

I appreciate your time and attention,
Brian
